

Abstract

5

A cross-stacker for paper products has a pre-collection chamber, at least one rotation device and two ejection devices, with a transport device being provided beneath the pre-collection chamber which transports paper products collected in the pre-collection chamber.